

Evan Linskey

Research Manager

---

Evan Linskey is the Research Manager within the Michigan Center for Data and Analytics at the State of Michigan. Evan and his team lead state efforts to turn data into actionable information for state, local, and outside partners. He has been with the center for over eight years where he previously served as both an economic analyst and a regional analyst. Prior to joining the state, Evan worked positions in both local and federal government. Evan is a native of Houghton Lake who currently resides in East Lansing and holds degrees from Saginaw Valley State University and Indiana University.